

ELKS ARRIVING
FOR CONVENTIONPark City Delegates Are the First to Get In.

EUREKA AND OTHERS TODAY

LIVELY CONTEST ON SECURE
NEXT GATHERING.

The Park City delegates, twenty-four in number, were the first to arrive in the city yesterday to attend the state convention of Elks, which will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the lodge room of No. 53. The morning camp boys came down early, not so much to avoid the rush, but to begin work early for the 1904 convention. They are determined to capture the city, and for the next year from Eureka if such a thing is possible. Eureka is after the meeting hard, and its delegates and rosters will arrive in the city early this morning, as will also Provo, Tintic and Ogden.

The Eureka Elks lay claim to the convention for next year on the ground that it is the oldest lodge in the state, excepting Salt Lake City, which is the father of them all.

Salt Lake to Keep Out.

There is a tacit understanding with the thirty Salt Lake delegates to the convention that they will not, for the next year, take any hand in the fight for the next year from Eureka if such a thing is possible. Eureka is after the meeting hard, and its delegates and rosters will arrive in the city early this morning, as will also Provo, Tintic and Ogden.

The convention will be called to order at 2 o'clock. It is expected that its work will have been completed by 6 o'clock, when an adjournment for the year will be taken. The impression that the meeting is to be a secret one is a mistake. It will be open, the general public being invited to attend.

The address of welcome will be delivered by District Deputy Grand Excelsior Ruler Joseph Ennsperger. That will be followed by the election of temporary officers, music and the appointment of committees. After the reports have been received, discussed and adopted, will come the election of permanent officers and the appointment of an executive committee. The functions of the latter will be the drafting of a set of by-laws and constitution, to be reported at the next meeting, to be reported at the next meeting, to be reported at the next meeting.

Parade This Evening.

At 7:30 o'clock this evening there will be an illuminated street parade. The column will start from the club building on South State street. At the end of the parade there will be a general reception at the club building.

The delegates who are in the city will remain over for the "Purple Day" celebration tomorrow. At 1 o'clock in the afternoon there will be a parade. Then comes the celebration of the day so dear to every Elk.

"HAVE A RIDE," HE SAYS.

Only by Politeness Does Officer Win a Woman.

Police Officer Miller met a Tartar yesterday afternoon when he tried to arrest Mrs. Hook on a charge of intoxication. The woman is about six feet in height and weighs over 200 pounds. She was creating a disturbance near the Rio Grande depot.

Officer Miller attempted to arrest the woman, but she informed him in unmistakable language that she had never been subject to the orders of any man and declared that she would not go to jail. She then threatened to sue him for assault and decided that force would be of no avail in this case, so decided to use tact. He invited the woman to get into his patrol wagon, and she consented after much coaxing and climbing in the wagon. They proceeded up Second South street until the county jail was reached, when, with the assistance of the driver, Miller hustled the woman inside. She was booked on the charge of being drunk and will answer for her offense before Judge Dial today.

ALFRED LARSON LEAVES.

Mrs. Hodge's Brother Will Return in Time For Trial.

Alfred Larson, the brother of Mrs. Aurora Hodge, left yesterday for his home in Denton, Ia. He expects to remain away until the time for his sister's trial in the district court.

SAYS HE WAS ROBBED.

An expression giving the name of P. L. Nash, telephoned from the Corcoran station, that he had been held up about 9 o'clock last night. The patrol wagon with Officer Williams went to the place and found Nash about three sheets in the wind. He was badly cut about the head and declared that an unknown man who saw him change a $2 bill, had attacked him. Nash resisted and after the men exchanged compliments with several good sized stones the unknown disappeared in the darkness.

HEALTH AUTHORITIES BLAME DOCTORS
FOR ALLOWING THE SPREAD OF TYPHOID

The health authorities are becoming alarmed at the number of typhoid fever cases which, being reported almost daily by the physicians of the city. Yesterday five cases were reported, breaking the record for the number of cases this year as compared with the same period of time for 1902. One death was reported from the disease. Dr. Carrie Anderson, 723 South Second East street, of which case no word had previously been seen in the medical health.

The authorities are positive that the physicians of the city are violating the health laws, and that they are not doing their duty in not reporting the cases of typhoid fever which come under their notice. There are several cases known to the health authorities which have not been reported to the clerk of the board. If notice of them is not sent in within the next few days, legal steps will be taken to ascertain why they come under their notice. ## Amusements.

In spite of the fact that the production of the "The Deceitful Doctor" by the Henry Miller-Margaret Anglin company in the Salt Lake theatre last night, the audience thoroughly enjoyed the play. Mr. Miller made a capital Dick Dugden. The part seemed to fit this capable actor more nearly than the part of Philip Carroll in the "Taming of the Shrew." At least the audience was more thoroughly in sympathy with him. In the beginning he was a rolicking sort of scapegraw, with nothing to redeem him, but a big, true, brave heart, and that is a good deal, come to think about it.

Mr. Miller's Dick Dugden worked out all right in the end after a series of very trying experiences. The subplot was especially exhausting. There the nerves of the spectators were wrought up to the last possible tension. With the rope around his neck it seemed almost impossible that the minister, whose place Dick had taken, would not, could not, arrive in time. Happily, however, he did arrive. Dick's life was saved, the minister was saved and the curtain went down, with everybody in a fair way to live happily ever after. Let us except just one thing, however. We are still wondering whether the wife of the minister, who was supposed to be Dick's wife, whether she continued to live with the minister, or whether—what's the use?

SMALLPOX QUILTS SUGAR.

Last Case Cured—New Isolation Hospital Occupied This Week.

The yellow flag was taken down yesterday from the last house in Sugar ward, which had been in quarantine for smallpox. The disease was in the family of Henry Phillips, who is employed in the shoe department of the Z. C. M. L. The patients were Mrs. Phillips and her three children, the youngest being three weeks old at the time of the contagion. The little one had the most severe case of them all.

The four cases in question are, as far as known, the last of the epidemic of smallpox, which affected that ward. There were about thirty cases altogether. None resulted fatally. Where the contagion was contracted is the first instance known. When the smallpox became so bad in the ward, the penitentiary authorities found it advisable to deprive the privilege of visiting the institution for a couple of weeks for fear the inmates would become contaminated.

Only one case of smallpox was yesterday reported from the Sugar ward. The patient is James Pitt, who lives at 221 West First North street. Where he contracted the disease is not known. He has a comparatively mild case.

Tomorrow or Friday it is the intention of the health authorities to move the present isolation hospital east of the penitentiary, and move into the new hospital on the east side of the city, which has been vacated. It will be thoroughly fumigated with oil, set fire to and burned to the ground. The rules will then be thoroughly fumigated to do away with the remotest possibility of anyone passing the site from becoming contaminated.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith signed their contract as partners for life at Farmington last Wednesday, and the fact came to light only yesterday, when they were kept busy receiving the congratulations of their friends in the city.

The couple boarded a Lagoon train, and while the friends were busy enjoying the circus the lovers were formally pronounced life partners in the town of Farmington.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith are stopping with the bride's parents at present.

Richfield, Aug. 11.—Herbert, quarantine physician of this city and county, has addressed a communication to State Health Commissioner Dr. T. Beatty, calling attention to the alleged defouling of the waters of Cedar creek, and asking that the same be taken care of.

In this communication it is set forth that the Annie Laura Mining company is the chief source of contamination to the stream. It is claimed that the water, after running through the cyanide plants and being poisoned, is allowed to run back into the creek, and that it has to be used by the miners and others.

It is asserted by Dr. Herbert that several cases of poisoning have occurred from the use of the water, and that the state stand the expense of an investigation that will relieve the situation.

Sudden Death of John Kirkpatrick Near Blackfoot, Ida.

(Special to The Herald.)
Blackfoot, Ida., Aug. 11.—John Kirkpatrick, aged 23 years, a son of William Kirkpatrick, a cattlemen and a pioneer of southeastern Idaho, living near Blackfoot, was found dead yesterday in his father's hay field about three miles from Blackfoot. In the morning of yesterday the young man left his father's house for the purpose of irrigating a tract of hay land about half a mile distant. Not appearing for dinner apprehension arose as to his failure to appear as usual. An investigation immediately followed and his lifeless remains were found close proximity to an irrigating ditch. He apparently having been extinct for several hours. No autopsy was deemed necessary for the reason that the young man had been subject to epilepsy for some years past, and it is presumed that he fell in one of those attacks, and no assistance being at hand, perished.
